

Coolidge Assumes Reins, Pays Tribute To Late President

Quietly, Massachusetts
Man Takes Hold;
Delays Action

HEADQUARTERS
IN CAPITAL HOTEL

Devotes Every Thought
To Arrangements For Tribute.

Washington, Aug. 4.—President Calvin Coolidge formally took over the reins of office today. In a quiet, unassuming manner, characteristic of his every action in public life, the new chief executive began the task of "carrying on" for Warren G. Harding. No real work is to be attempted for a week or more. By choice, Coolidge will permit federal machinery to remain virtually motionless until after the last rites have been performed over his dead and beloved chief.

Proclamation Expected
The first formal use of his new office will materialize in the issuance of a proclamation from his hotel White House where it will repose until it enters into a period of mourning for the dead president.

In a more informal manner, President Coolidge will step into his new role at a conference at 11 o'clock this morning with the press. Scores of correspondents from all sections of the country have added themselves to Washington's fourth estate in the past 24 hours and to these men Coolidge has promised to make his first official pronouncement.

This far President Coolidge has devoted his every thought to the assurance of a fitting tribute to the passing of Warren G. Harding. From the moment of his arrival last night to the time he retired, and continuing at an early hour this morning, he has labored over arrangements for the funeral ceremonies for the late president. With the assistance of Secretary of State Hughes, Senator Charles O. Serrill, presidential aide and superintendent of public grounds and buildings, President Coolidge has worked into the final stage of a most elaborate and impressive ceremonial.

Remains Arrive Tuesday
The remains of President Harding, now speeding east, according to the plans issued from the "temporary white house" will arrive in Washington about 1 p. m. Tuesday, Aug. 7. Mer by the new president, members of the cabinet and the supreme court the body will be escorted to the White House where it will repose until Wednesday morning.

At 10 a. m. Wednesday, accompanied by a military and civic escort the body will be conveyed to the capitol. There, in the historic rotunda which has housed the martyred presidents, Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley, and America's greatest hero—the unknown soldier—funeral services will be held over the two-

DEATH OF HARDING

Great Britain Will Not Send

London, Aug. 4.—Belgium has sent a note to London announcing her readiness to reopen reparations negotiations for a definite financial settlement and to make the modifications necessary to "progressive evacuation" of the decrees for passive resistance, the Ruhr only when Germany cancels a dispatch from Brussels today. Belgium thus stands firm by the French demands.

The Belgian note was in reply to a communication from Lord Curzon, British foreign secretary, on July 20. The note declares it would be unjust to the allies to cancel Germany's debt and emphasize the belief that a spirit of revenge is growing up in Germany.

Gotham Would Close Theaters Of Nation
For Funeral Service

New York, Aug. 4.—A movement was under way today to close theaters and motion picture houses throughout the country the day of President Harding's funeral. Three of New York's biggest theaters were dark last night as a mark of respect to the dead president.

Augustus Thoms, head of New H. Hays, director of the movies and York's theatrical producers and Will taking steps to induce theater owners to remain closed the day of the funeral.

McDevitt was brought to his home here Wednesday night and local physicians are puzzled over his condition. Before they proceed with treatment they asked for an expert diagnosis.

McDevitt is able to converse with his friends at times, but is still unable to remember about the accident or to think connectedly.

Tribute In Churches

At the late president's own church—Calvary Baptist—a lone wreath will be placed in the pew so frequently occupied by Mr. Harding, who was a devout attendant.

President Coolidge is expected to participate in the church memorials by attending services in the First Congregationalist church, where he worships when in Washington.

Lisbon School Will Open Week Later

Lisbon, Aug. 4.—Prof. W. H. Geiger announced Friday that the Lisbon public schools would not open until Monday, Sept. 17, instead of Sept. 1, as has been the custom. The Lisbon chautauqua will be held the first week in September and the Lisbon fair the following week. In view of such attractions the superintendent thought it wise to postpone the opening until these annual festivals have been disposed of.

Salem Man Gives Up Life Of Millionaire In Germany Despite Dollar's High Value

Joseph Moeggling, 72, a former resident of this city who has spent the past three and a half years in Constantinople, Germany, has just returned to Salem with a full realization of the value of the United States and the meaning of its citizenship.

Mr. Moeggling tells interesting details of the conditions in Germany. He says that the common people of that country have no butter for their bread and no coffee to drink because these necessities cost so much that they cannot buy them.

A pound of coffee costs from 12.00 to 15.00 marks and the German money has so little value that it requires one keeper

WHITFIELD TO HIDE

Events Of Tragedy Are Dramatically Pictured In Court.

DEFENSE OF MARIE
PRICE IS ATTEMPTED

Prospects Are Case Will Go
To Jury By Monday Night.

Cleveland, Aug. 4.—After dramatically reacting his version of the way in which Patrolman Dennis Griffin met his death as the two rode in a blue Jordan roadster to the 14th precinct police station, which was never reached, John L. Whitfield, on trial for his life, on the charge of first degree murder, told of the arrival of C. Milan, of "Pete, the Wop."

"Pete," Whitfield testified, in reply to questions from his counsel, drove up behind him and said:

"What's the matter?"
"Whitfield replied, 'I've got a policeman here. I think he's dead. I am going to take him to the police station.'"
"Don't do it," said Milan. They will say you did it. You know you are not a white man anyhow, and you will get the worst of it. Come with me."

Yielding to his friend's urging, Whitfield declared that arrangement was then made to bury the body of the slain officer, and that Milan took the body into his car and buried it in the shallow grave near Pettibone rd., where it was found the Monday following the killing.

At the conclusion of a direct examination and before Prosecutor Examination and before Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton had begun to question him the prisoner volunteered:

"I don't want to answer any questions about Marie Price. She is my friend and the mother of my child."
"You do not feel that way on the direct examination, Thursday, did you?" Stanton queried.
"No, I didn't, but I was cornered," the prisoner admitted.

COUPLES HESITATE; LICENSES FALL OFF

Only Three Issued Since
Aug. 1—New Law
Blamed.

Lisbon, Aug. 4.—Only three marriage licenses were issued the first four days of August. This is below the average and many reasons are given for this state of affairs. One of the most popular explanations is that the marriage law which prevents girls from being granted licenses without their parents' consent, until after they are 21 years old prevents many from applying. The young couples dislike to have the girl's father and mother appear with them in order to secure their consent to the marriage and rather than face the inquiring and knowing stares of friends and acquaintances the wedding is either put off or the couple quietly goes to New Cumberland, W. Va. Reports from there indicate that the number of Ohio couples married in New Cumberland is on the increase, and this lends color to this explanation.

CABINET RESIGNS, ALL WILL REMAIN SAVE DAUGHERTY

Coolidge Announces He Will Ask All Members To Stay On Job.

ATTORNEY GENERAL
WANTS TO STEP OUT

Only Urging Of President
Harding Kept Him,
Is Report.

Washington, Aug. 4.—The resignations of all members of the Harding cabinet were in the hands of President Coolidge today as the former president's advisers followed the traditional custom of outgoing administrations. President Coolidge, however, has announced he will ask each cabinet member to remain, although he has not yet taken formal action.

The continuation of A. T. Gen. Daugherty in the cabinet is problematical. His friends declare the attorney general is desirous of retiring from active political life because of illness and it is known he sought at one time to resign but was prevailed upon by President Harding, his close personal friend, to continue in office. Other members of the cabinet, if asked by President Coolidge, doubtless will remain.

Dry Agent Reveals Clever Boozie Cache On Farm At Winona; Arrest 3 On Charge

East Palestine dry enforcement officers made an interesting raid uncovering one of the cleverest booze manufacturing joints ever discovered in a Columbus county when they arrested John Hanon, Sam Peano and Nick Stolar on a farm near Winona, Friday afternoon.

The officers had searched the premises once, finding no trace of liquor nor evidence as to its manufacture. Then a time one of the officers not satisfied, another search was found a screw driver lying on the ground outside the building. He could not account for its presence there. He also discovered a ladder leaning against the outside of the building and mounting to the roof could detect the odor of liquor so he began a little secret investigation. The building was an old structure, having had a new addition erected recently, the new part apparently having no cellar underneath it. It rested upon a concrete wall.

The officer began tapping on the concrete section and before long he discovered a loose board at the base of the weather boarding. This board was removed only to find a second board with finger holes in it making its removal very simple. Beyond this

Washington, Aug. 4.—During the state funeral for President Harding next Wednesday the historic old catafalque will be used which was first erected following the assassination of President Lincoln. The late president's body will lie in state on the solemn structure beneath the capitol's dome all day Wednesday.

Fails To Pay Alimony;
Lisbon Man Is Jailed

Elvin Wagner of Lisbon, who was recently divorced from his wife and ordered to pay her alimony, has refused to pay the money ordered by the court. He has been urged by his friends and commanded by the court officers to pay up, but has refused each time, so yesterday he was arrested by Sheriff Lewis and placed in jail here on a charge of contempt of court.

"I am the judge of what I shall pay that woman," he said, "and I will not let her see me until I pay her any more."

An invitation to occupy a post of honor in the funeral procession will be extended to him by President Coolidge. Sympathy Goes Out To Widow Of President
Sitting Tearless.

Aboard President Harding's Funeral Train, enroute to Washington, Aug. 4.—The caravan of sorrow that is the Harding funeral train, today swept swiftly into Nevada on the first part of the long, sad journey back to Washington. Through the blackness of the night the train roared through towns and countryside, making no stops and scarcely slackening speed even for the curves that are frequently met on the Southern Pacific right-of-way.

Silent Crowds Gather

Occasionally out of the darkness would loom little knots of people, a fleeting glimpse to those who peered from the windows of the long train, there for a second and then gone. At times during the night the train attained a speed far greater than normal travel but when daylight came and the towns and the silent groups of people became more frequent speed was of necessity slackened.

The crowds that stood at respectful attention at every crossroads and hamlet had eyes only for one thing—the silent, grim-looking car on the rear of the train holding the remains of Warren G. Harding, twenty-ninth president of the United States.

Four weeks ago he crossed the continent and daily traversed territory much the same as that through which his funeral train passed today. Four weeks ago there were bands, hurrahs, applause, noise and acclaim everywhere. Today there were the same crowds and the same acclaim, but it was the silent acclaim of a reverential and respectful people aware by that which has shocked the nation.

Sympathy For Widow
Every heart on the train and in the crowds that came to pay their final respects to the dead president went out to the woman in the rear car who insisted upon staying as near to her husband as possible. The president (Continued on fourth page.)

POISON IVY

Perhaps you have seen or actually suffered with this distressing and irritating condition.

A few hours or even a few days after exposure the hands and face become covered with a mass of tiny sores with redness, swelling, and itching.

Just why some people are susceptible of it and others are not is one of the mysteries of that strange condition we call immunity. And yet the same thing occurs with other conditions in a family, such as measles, scarlet fever, and diphtheria, some members escaping and others being stricken.

A person can actually handle poison ivy, have no symptoms of poisoning, and yet pass the condition along to someone else.

Now what to do.

If you think you have been exposed, scrub the skin with good soap and warm water, and rub alcohol over entire body.

In an emergency call to a child at some distance from his office or a druggist, a physician found himself with nothing of an alkaline nature in his bag but a tube of Carrol oil which is used extensively for burns.

The case was a well developed case of poisoning. Remembering that Carrol oil contained equal parts of lime water and linseed oil he applied this to the surface of the affected part of the skin, and gave Epsom salts internally. This Carrol oil was applied two or three times a day for three days when the condition cleared up completely. As in other years it has lasted for weeks, the Carrol oil was certainly most successful in this particular case. Sometimes the itching becomes so intense that it is almost unbearable. A little baking soda rubbed into the skin allays this condition almost immediately.

I know there are other remedies suggested such as boric acid, corn presses, zinc ointment, lead and opium, and a host of others, but try the Carrol oil first.

So if exposed wash well at once as suggested and you may lessen the severity of the attack.

U. S. ADS POOR IN LATIN COUNTRIES

Incongruous With Preference And Customs Of People, Bureau Reports.

Washington, Aug. 4.—In congruous advertising by American exporters to Latin-American countries is poor economy and affords those countries amusement rather than educates them to buy the products advertised, the Department of Commerce reported recently.

An advertisement portraying a Chinese wearing a product in a publication to be placed before the American public would be as ludicrous as some of the advertising now being used in Latin-America by American firms, the department states.

To the successful promotion of American products in Latin-America by advertising careful attention must be given to "local color," and products must be distinctly Latin in effect and custom.

EVANSTON WOULD BAN MAIN STREET

Name Now Suggests "Hickdom," Says Petition Seeking To Drop Designation

Chicago, Aug. 3.—"In the eyes of the public, Main st is no longer the name of a respected and respectable busy street, but rather the public now considers the name as indicative of a yokel condition—a label of hickdom—whereas no such thing is true in Evanston, Ill."

A petition setting forth the above was widely circulated at Evanston a Chicago suburb, recently. The signers are seeking to obliterate the name "Main street" from the directory.

MANICURES FIGHT PRESCRIBED GARB

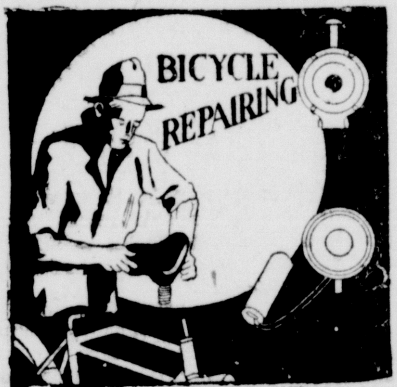

Boston Nail Polishers Say They Won't Steal Hubby; Dress As They Please.

Boston, Aug. 4.—Jersey City may issue an edict compelling manicures to wear long sleeves and wash their faces instead of using powder, but the manicures of Boston will have none of it.

"Laws or no laws, we will dress as we please in Boston, and will put on all the sweet smelling powder we wish," is the general summary of the opinions of a large number of the manicure ladies questioned on the subject here.

"There is no reason why we should wear uniforms and look puffed and act like Pilgrim maidens," said one manicure. "We will not steal any husbands. Most men when they want treatment for beauty go to the barber shop. That is the place for them anyway. If there is any move here to follow in the footsteps of Jersey City there will be a concerted howl and many violators."

New Lexington.—John Carey had walked out into the country and picked himself two large buckets of fine blackberries. He left the buckets while he went to wash and freshen up in a nearby creek. Upon his arrival home he found that the berries had been substituted with stones which had been concealed with a layer of berries over the top of the buckets.

That Sunday When the Browns Stayed to Tea

You were careful not to show that you felt just a bit flustered. Join insisted that they stay and you seconded the motion, mentally checking off the contents of the larder after a Sunday dinner when the whole family had been ravenous!

But how perfectly the little meal turned out! The electric grill stove made golden toast for the currant jelly. There was cold roast with tomatoes sliced around the platter. And the coffee! Such rich, nectar-like coffee made on your new electric percolator, right at the table.

These two handy electric servants—the grill and the percolator—had simplified the preparation of the meal and added perfection of detail to your table appointments. Electricity was your aid as a hostess, in value far beyond the few cents paid for current.

FLAPPER WRECKS HAIR NET GAME

Market Glutted With Single Strand Variety For Which There's No Demand.

Washington, Aug. 4.—The "pig tail" hair net industry of China has gone to "pot" because of the whims and caprices of the American flapper. Consul Lupton, at Chefoo, reported to the Department of Commerce recently. The flapper just won't wear 'em and the industry has practically collapsed.

Last year the single strand nets were in vogue, but the flapper has now ruled them "passe." As a result the industry and importers are glutted with singles for which there is no market. Attempts to palm them off on the trade at prices below cost is not meeting with much success the department stated.

HARDING BURIAL
SPOT BEAUTIFUL

Giant Elms In Marion Cemetery Cast Shadows Over Site.

Marion, Aug. 4.—The spot in Marion cemetery where all that is mortal of Warren G. Harding will be consigned to final rest is one of the most beautiful in the vicinity of the quiet town to which he of times said he hoped to return as an "ordinary citizen."

Situated at almost the exact center of the shady expanse of the old burial ground, the Harding family plot, where a president of the United States will resume his place among the kindly folk he knew and loved as neighbors, lies cupped in a tiny valley.

Two giant elms cast deep shadows over slabs of granite which mark the resting place of the president's mother and sister, Mary Charlissa, and only a few steps away a gleaming gravel roadway winds through a perfect archway of foliage fashioned by the interlocking branches of virgin elms.

To the rear where the tiny depression levels itself out there are stretches of the gray blot of a tombstone, all dead grassland, dotted here and there by a few of quiet vista of gently rolling green into sombre tints by the shade of forest trees a fitting background for the shrine of a dead president.

GRANGE TO HAVE
NEW KITCHEN SOON

World Could Do Without Merchant, Not Farmer, Debaters Say.

Goshen grange will have a new kitchen made in the basement, and a new drive in front of the hall before the annual fair Sept. 19. This was decided at a meeting Friday evening at the hall, northwest of Salem. Work on the kitchen will be begun in about two weeks.

A brief resume of automobile laws enacted by the last Ohio legislature was given by C. E. French. At the close of the literary program a playlet, "Putting on Airs," was presented by Fred Ruffer, Herman Stratton and J. A. Conway.

T. W. Mead, in a discussion on advances made by the present generation, declared that the American people need not be surprised at anything.

"It is entirely possible," he said, "that within a short time farmers will be hauling their hay by airplane."

Case-hardened farmers present responded with three huzzas.

In a general discussion on the question, "Which could we do without the better—the farmer or the merchant?" sentiment expressed was that we could do without the merchant better than the farmer. Other numbers are: the grange; vocal solo.

Song by reading, Bertha Kent; reading, Gray, accompanied by Hazel 2, Mrs. Bertha Kamper; "New Automobile and Traffic Regulation Law," C. E. French. The surprise committee gave a dialogue.

The surprise committee for the next meeting in two weeks is composed of Mrs. William Kent, Grace Fawcett, Homer Gray, Sr., and Werner Wein-gart.

CARAVAN OF SORROW

and Mrs. Harding occupied the car Superba on the outward trip across the continent and Mrs. Harding insisted when the arrangements were made that she be permitted to occupy the same compartment on the return journey.

The adjoining compartment that of the president's outward journey—was vacant; ten feet further on in the observation space rests in simple stateliness the catafalque on which stands the flag-draped casket. At each of the four corners is a guard of honor, two soldiers, a blue jacket and a marine form the guard and through the long night they stood guard as the swaying train swept through the village and plain toward the capital.

Mrs. Harding is standing her bereavement in a manner that challenges the admiration of all who see her. Only occasionally does her emotion get the better of her. Then she breaks into a fit of weeping.

Cruel Week Ahead

But it is never for long, by an effort that is plainly visible and hence all the more pathetic she seems to literally get a grip on her jangled nerves and she says: "I won't break down. It is almost a prayer; the tears stop. Whether she can retain this truly remarkable hold upon her feelings during the arduous week ahead of her is another question. Her health, always precarious in recent years, and particularly so since her breakdown last autumn, may give way under the strain. That much is recognized by the doctors, and they are making every effort to avoid it.

It is a cruel week ahead of Mrs. Harding. Four days enroute to Washington with the body of the man whose staunch helpmate she has been for more than three decades, a day of sorrow in Washington, in the White House, another day enroute to Ohio to old friends and familiar scenes, and finally the homcoming to Marion, where final services and burial will take place on Friday, offer a test of endurance which might well challenge a well person.

Mrs. Harding was utterly exhausted when she boarded the train at San Francisco last night. Hardly had the train moved out of the city's environs before she had retired.

Planes Shower Flowers

In the remaining compartments in the car Superba, which carries the remains of the president are Dr. and Mrs. Charles E. Sawyer and Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Jennings of Columbus, lifelong friends of the Hardings.

The departure from San Francisco last evening was a sad scene. An entire city gathered in reverent homage. From the airplanes showered flowers, while the funeral cortege moved from the Palace hotel to the depot. Thousands packed beyond the police lines about the Palace hotel stood in breathless attention as the band played the "Star Spangled Banner."

There was a pause, then the hymn that President Harding had loved most in life—"Lead Kindly Light"—came softly as eight men of the army and navy service carried the body of Warren G. Harding to the waiting hearse. The funeral cortege was marked by its simplicity.

Mrs. Harding remained at the hotel until the train had been made ready for departure and then was driven quickly to the rear of the train.

DRY AGENT REVEALS

was a third board of oval design large enough to allow space for a human body to pass through the opening which it concealed.

At this opening was discovered a ladder providing admittance down into a room excavated especially for the manufacture of liquor. A 50-gallon still, which had recently been installed, was found in operation. Seventy-five gallons of whiskey were confiscated, as were 20 barrels of mash. The three men were taken without trouble by the officer making the discovery. The apparatus is reported to be of the most up-to-date design.

Each of the three men is charged with three separate offenses—manufacture and possession of liquor; possession of implements and materials necessary to the manufacture of contraband liquor.

They will be given hearings at 3 p. m. Saturday afternoon before Mayor A. W. Ferren at East Palestine, where they were taken following the raid Friday afternoon.

SHAW WANTS TO BE ROBOT, PART TIME

Willing To Turn Crank Two Hours a Day, But Would Be Shaw Rest Of Time.

London, Aug. 4.—George Bernard Shaw would like to be a "Robot"—a machine man—for about two hours a day.
"I want to find my own happiness," Shaw says. "What we should all be aiming at is a distribution of the clay-ality of nature. Let me be a 'Robot' for two hours a day, but for the rest of the day let me be Bernard Shaw. For those two hours of 'Robotism' give me a mechanical job, so that while I am turning the wheel I can think about the next play I am going to write. People who have nothing more to do than to think about their own happiness are completely miserable. Men engaged in mechanical occupations keep their minds in virginal innocence."

COOLIDGE ASSUMES REINS

The funeral procession from the White House to the capitol on Wednesday is to be personally marshaled and led by General Pershing. It will include one squadron of cavalry, a battalion of field artillery, a brigade of infantry, a battalion of marines, a battalion of blue jackets. Funeral dirges will be rendered by the Marine band and the army band.

At 6 p. m. Wednesday President Harding's remains will be taken on a special train to Marion, O., near the scene of his birth and the only place he called home. Escorting will be in addition to Mrs. Harding and members of the family, President Coolidge, Chief Justice Taft and members of the cabinet, led by Secretary of State Hughes.

The military escort which will conduct the funeral procession from the White House to the capitol on Wednesday is to be personally marshaled and led by General Pershing. It will include one squadron of cavalry, a battalion of field artillery, a brigade of infantry, a battalion of marines, a battalion of blue jackets. Funeral dirges will be rendered by the Marine band and the army band.

Services in the rounds of the capitol will be conducted by the Rev. Freeman Anderson, acting pastor of the Cavalry Baptist church, and the Rev. James Shera Montgomery, chaplain of the house of representatives.

Curly and overcast skies—strange, symbolic of the nation's grief and bereavement—marked the return of President Coolidge to Washington. Lightning flashing intermittently, thunder rumbling in the Maryland hills, and fitful rain squalls—all heightened the feeling of loss and desolation which has overtaken the city since the fatal news from San Francisco. A mere handful of people, hardly a thousand in all, were present to greet the incoming new executive as he stepped from the special train which brought him from his New England home. There were no cheers, the crowd standing in solemn silence.

Outside the Willard hotel—the temporary executive mansion—another scene of the strange drama of sorrow was enacted.

Thousands Waiting.
A thousand persons stood waiting for an hour to see the new president reach his temporary "White House." Suddenly the White House car, carrying the president and Mrs. Coolidge, guarded by secret service men, rolled up to the hotel and the president quickly entered. The crowd never noticed him but continued its vigil while policemen went about explaining the president had already entered the hotel. Ten minutes passed before the crowd was convinced, disbanding as silently as it had formed.

Calvin Coolidge—former vice president and now president—had "come home."

Exactly How Much Do You Know About Your Car?

A MOTORIST shows how much he knows about his car by the way he buys oil. The man who knows and who gives serious thought to what is going on under his hood,—the man who knows the functions of his pistons, crankshaft, valves, and so on—is the man who buys his oil with utmost care.

That man knows about the high speeds of his motor parts. He knows about the high tempera-tures caused by burning gases in his combustion chambers. And knowing these conditions, he ap-preciates that it takes an oil of high heat and friction resisting qualities to combat them. He buys FREEDOM OIL because it is made from paraffin base crude—the crude which he knows to contain natural protecting prop-erties.

Those properties are especially needed when you tour. Take a five gallon can of FREEDOM with you.

Freedom Cylinder and Engine Oils for factory use are of the same high quality as Freedom Motor Oils.

LEGAL NOTICE

Eliza Hart, Gertrude Gray, Blottie Overton, Walter Overton, Lottie Hill and George Hill, all residing at Pittsburg, Penna., and the unknown heirs of Henry Morgan will take notice that on the 19th day of July, 1923, Robert H. Yates filed his petition in the common pleas court of Columbiana, Ohio, in cause No. 1684 against the above named defendants and others for specific performance of a land contract on and quieting his title to the following described real estate situated in the township of Perry, county of Columbiana and state of Ohio:

And known as a part of the northwest quarter of section No. 1, township No. 14, range No. 4, and beginning at the southeast corner of a tract of land conveyed to Mark Bonnell by John L. Straughn, John L. Straughn, Marius E. Straughn and Mary V. Straughn by deed dated January 14, 1868; thence north 28 degrees east 1/4 chain and 71 links to the southwest corner of said land, conveyed to said Mark Bonnell; thence with the line of the same north 26 degrees east 1/4 chain and 71 links to the line of said Mark Bonnell; thence east 1/4 chain and 71 links to the line of said Mark Bonnell; thence south 26 degrees east 1/4 chain and 71 links to the place of beginning and being the same premises upon which said Henry Morgan and family formerly resided; said Henry Morgan by Mark Bonnell and wife, a deed dated the 22nd day of September, A. D. 1868, and containing forty-four one hundredths of an acre of land.

Prisoners Refuse To Show Contrition

Lisbon, Aug. 4.—Failing to show any signs of apologizing for their conduct in cheering at the news of the death of President Warren G. Harding, 15 prisoners at the county jail were served bread and water for breakfast Saturday morning. This is the third meal served in this fashion since the outbreak Friday.

Until there is some signs of contrition on the part of the men who staged the unseemly demonstration Friday, the fare will be bread and water. Sheriff Lewis and wife state that they are ready to re-establish the regular rations as soon as the men realize the enormity of their conduct and are ready to express sorrow for their error.

Wilbur Colverton of East Liverpool, colored, was the only man in the "bull pen" to be out of the demonstration and he is being served his regular rations. None of the prisoners on the first floor of the jail participated in the demonstration.

Harding Front Porch Offers Big Contrast

Marion, Aug. 4.—The famous Harding front porch, the focal point of the 1920 campaign, today presented a sorrowful contrast to the summer afternoons of three years ago when President Harding, then a candidate for his high position, enunciated his policies to thousands of enthusiastic pilgrims or stood, flanked by his wife, greeting well-wishers with the quiet smile which became one of his marked characteristics as chief executive.

All was quiet around the spacious gray structure and the placid reaches of Mount Vernon ave. seemed even more tranquil than usual. Only a flag which fluttered idly at half mast gave indication that the man who left the home he loved to accept the greatest honor a country may give was dead.

Coolidge Arises Early
